WHAT IS THIS WORKSHOP?

Block printing with Natural dyes is one of the oldest technique of transferring patterns on the fabric. The age old technique of printing with wooden blocks is very dynamic as it allows ample opportunities to create interesting surfaces using the same set of blocks. The process of printing is an interesting combination of creativity and technical knowledge. The workshop would involve understanding the tools and methods of printing, process of preparing the fabric, colours and loads of fun in printing on the fabric! The hands on- minds on workshop encourages young talents to translate their imaginations through textile printing.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

The objective of the workshop is to introduce the fascinating world of traditional block printing and to provide a conducive learning environment for people interested in the subject. The participants will understand the logic involved in the processes of the craft. The workshop will encourage and enable the participants to create creative explorations.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Person with keen interest in exploring textile printing. School children, college students, professionals, house wife etc.
