What is this Workshop about?

From Script to Stream is a hands-on podcast creation workshop designed for beginners and enthusiasts. This one-week course guides participants through the entire podcast production process from ideation and scripting to recording, editing, and publishing.

Participants will learn how to develop engaging podcast concepts, write compelling scripts, and refine voice delivery. The workshop includes practical training on recording equipment, audio editing software, and sound design, focusing on sound quality and music.

Key sessions cover audience targeting, interview techniques, and adding personality to your podcast. By the end, participants will have a fully edited podcast episode ready for streaming.

What will you learn?

1. Podcast concept development and scripting
2. Voice coaching and narration practice
3. Recording sessions (interviews, voiceovers, sound effects)
4. Audio editing and sound mixing
5. Intro/outro creation and music selection
6. Podcast hosting, RSS feeds, and streaming platforms overview
7. Final project showcase and peer feedback

Who should attend?

This workshop is open to beginners and enthusiasts eager to explore the world of storytelling for online
